Introduction

PAKISTANI SIGN LANGUAGE

ALI NOONARI

Pakistan sign language (PSL) is one of the sign languages of the world used by the Pakistani deaf community.

BRITISH SIGN LANGUAGE

RINKOO BARPAGA

British Sign Language (BSL) is a sign language used in the United Kingdom (UK), and is the first or preferred language of some deaf people in the UK.

Like all languages, PSL and BSL evolve and develop according to changes and developments within society. This book is a record of the new sign language vocabulary created by the two different deaf communities in 2020

Who are we?

ALI NOONARI

Ali Noonari was born in Pakistan. Despite being Deaf, he has completed his Masters in Arts and Economics. Since 2005, he has been training English, basic IT and sign language to students and interpreters at various workshops and programs. He has recently been working as a professional expert in Pakistani Sign Language (PSL), researching on new signs for the project to support the people across Pakistan and other countries. He also has been travelling across Pakistan and different countries as an ambassador (since 2005).

RINKOO BARPAGA

Rinkoo is a British born comedian and a Theatre-Maker, who uses British and urban sign language. Throughout his 15-year career he has been involved in media creation and has worked for the BBC, ITV, MTV as well as independent media productions. He is also involved in stand-up comedy, which he developed in United States of America.
